AT THE PASTIME
THEATER TODAY ONLYIn "New York" Pathé has given us a truly "all-star" cast. Florence Reed, star of "The Yellow Ticket," heads this group as Mrs. King. Her acting is always sincere, genuine and natural, while her peculiarly striking style of dressing makes her a dominant figure whenever she is before the camera.The real acting honors go to Fania Milhoff, however, in the role of the scheming chorus girl. Her work is as excellent but her opportunity in "New York" is so much greater, and her grasp of the role so clear that her former work pale beside it. She is alluring, clever and dangerous under the most innocent pose or action. Her fall down the flight of stairs is a tremendously thrilling bit of work.John Miltun, as Oliver King, and Forrest Winant, as Wendell, give straightforward, consistent characterizations of rather difficult roles. Miltun will be remembered for his excellent work with Pauline Frederick in "Innocent," which was played here last season.Jessie Ralph, whose delightful work in "Ruggles of Red Gap" was recently seen in this city, completes the astronomic interest with the cleverest bit of character acting seen on the screen for a long while. Her portrayal of the tipping old woman is notable for the repression she uses at all times and the atmosphere of quiet which surrounds her no matter how dressed up she may be.The photography is excellent. The night scene of New York used as the introductory picture is especially noteworthy. It is reminiscent of the one in "The Battle Cry of Peace" but is rather more attractively handled.To be seen at the Pastime theater today.DISTINGUISHED WOMEN WITH SUFFRAGE ENVOYSAmong the distinguished women who will arrive in Albuquerque Monday night for the party of "envoys" of the Congressional Union for Woman Suffrage is Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, of New York. Mrs. Blatch is a daughter of Elizabeth Cady Stanton and is president of the Women's Political Union of New York as well as a prominent member of the Congressional Union.Exact information as to the length of the stay of the "envoys" in Albuquerque is not yet obtainable, as no word has been received from the members of the party in response to telegraphic inquiries. It is known, however, that they will remain in Albuquerque long enough to make a series of public addresses and it is expected that there will be a large attendance of citizens who are interested in the suffrage cause to hear them.Spend this afternoon with our do-
